Your list of dream vacations is not complete without including the Maldives. Its certain that every place has its unique enchantment, but these islands will leave you breathless. It doesn't matter how many times you close your eyes, it is real. You're on paradise! This "picture" that you'll save on your mind will be your reference of a life of peace, tranquility, and beauty. Even after a few days here, you will still doubt that this place truly exists.

But what are you thinking? This natural enchantment is not all of it; go in the hands of NUBA, and our specialty is taking you beyond the imaginable.

An exclusive destination to enjoy in your own way

Maldives is not a common country – on the contrary, it is characterized as an exclusive destiny, and this peculiarity is something that we at NUBA know with perfection. The spectacular views won't overcome it, and there are many ways of enjoying it! With your own rhythm, your own style, and our unique magic.

This collection of islands make up one of the main treasures of submarine life in the world, ideal for diving lovers. With such crystalline water, you'll think there's no need for any special equipment to see the diversity of aquatic fauna and flora, being fascinated by clearly seeing the fish by the shore. However, you cannot miss the opportunity to snorkel or dive and admire from up close the coral reefs that have been protected to take care of this place's beauty. We haven't even mentioned swimming among turtles and manta rays, or seeing from up close a whale shark, the largest fish in the world, with all its majesty. Diving here is a whole new experience.

Definitely yes!

The Maldives' beaches keep many surprises.

One of the peculiarities that distinguish the Maldives is the power of being able to appreciate the bioluminescent sea from its beaches. There are counted places around the globe that will allow you to enjoy such a spectacle.

In Maldives, this phenomenon has the habit of appearing throughout the entire archipelago and almost during the whole year. However, there are some places where you can for sure see the ocean shining, like in the Baa atoll.

So, would you like to see the blue waters illuminated like the night sky full of stars?

Your “definitely yes!” is already arranged

Enjoy the Maldives you own way

What about a change of rhythm? Do it your way. Feel the pleasure of the sound of the waves while contemplating the landscape, walk on the beach, or simply have your favorite drink while the ocean breeze refreshes you. The luxury of doing “nothing” is an invitation to rest your body and soul, reconnect with your own self, enjoy the beauty of nature and recharge your batteries. Spa? You don’t know what you’re talking about! Imagine a session with professional therapists and masseuses with international recognition that combine old traditions with innovative techniques, turning a massage into an unique experience. Either in underwater treatment rooms, by the ocean’s shore under a palm tree’s shadow, or in floating pavilions... this is the moment to give consent to your whims and enjoy an opportunity that you cannot miss.

Finish your day by tasting exquisite culinary specialties at an underwater restaurant (in Maldives you can find the largest underwater restaurant in the world). It will not only be an unforgettable dinner, but you will find it almost impossible to have a conversation without any distractions. You will find yourself constantly diverting the subject to mention the fish, shark, and even the octopus that parade in front of you, along with the details that you can only find in such a unique restaurant.

Live in paradise

The resorts on these islands are as spectacular as they are exclusive. Completely oriented towards ecology and the preservation of its surroundings, they don't spare in luxury. In Maldives you live in paradise all day long. This doesn't exclude the hospitality; on the contrary, your room is anything but common. A bungalow over the water brings peace to all of your five senses and envelops you in the enchantment of this place. Enjoy the privacy of your room in open air so you don't miss out on the details of the impressive turquoise extending on the horizon, while your breath adopts the rhythm of the sweet whispers from the waves.

Add “witness the sunset” to your list; you won't regret it.
