In addition to being the wine capital of Burgundy, including prestigious wine houses like Drouhin, Bichot and Jadot, among others, Beaune offers a plethora of interesting and important Medieval buildings and structures such as the beautiful 12th century Basilica of Notre Dame or the solidly built 13th century Belfry and the very famous 15th century Hôtel Dieu or charity hospital with its polychrome Burgundy roofs and its international gothic elegance. As the 17th century was another golden period for Burgundy, you can admire the architecture from that period as well as later additions. Your private tour will take you on a meander through the winding streets of Beaune to discover its treasures as well as a visit of the Hotel Dieu, a component of the Hospices of Beaune where you will learn not only about health care from the Middle Ages but also about its world-famous charity wine auction.

The Château du Clos de Vougeot

Headquarters of the Climats de Bourgogne.

Standing in the very heart of Burgundy's vineyards, it was originally a wine farm, built in the 12th century by monks from the nearby Abbey of Cîteaux. In the 16th century, a Renaissance style château was added to the existing buildings.

With its medieval vat-house and presses, Cistercian cellar and original kitchens, it forms a unique architectural whole, attracting history lovers, architecture lovers or wine lovers. The Chateau du Clos de Vougeot also hosts famous receptions. It is renowned as one of the very best "table d'hôte" of France. Even though the Chateau du Clos de Vougeot does not produce wine anymore, it remains the symbol of a millenary of Burgundy's History. The Confrérie des Chevaliers du Tastevin acquired the Château in 1945, and started to restore it, turning it into the seat of the Order.

The Hospices de Beaune

The Hospices de Beaune or Hôtel-Dieu de Beaune is a former charitable almshouse in Beaune, France. It was founded in 1443 by Nicolas Rolin, chancellor of Burgundy, as a hospital for the poor. The original hospital building, the Hôtel-Dieu, one of the finest examples of fifteenth-century Burgundian architecture, is now a museum. Services for patients are now provided in modern hospital buildings.

An important charity wine auction is held in November each year (formerly in the great hall of the Hôtel-Dieu).
