

January 2021 saw the launch of family-owned sustainable hideaway, Nirjara, in Tabanan on Bali's southwest coast. Artfully designed around the spectacular cascading waterfall after which it is named, and surrounded by lush forest and boundless rice fields, Nirjara blends seamlessly into nature. The new property promises to offer guests a secluded and environmentally conscious haven, just a stone's throw from the island's volcanic sand beaches, must-see Tanah Lot Temple and popular towns of Canggu and Ubud.

In 1996, the multicultural Tran Tien family visited Tabanan from France and felt deeply moved by the beauty of the landscape. From this moment, the idea to create a truly sustainable hotel that nurtured its surrounds both environmentally and socially began to take shape. Almost 25 years later, Nirjara was born with 25 suites and villas – including seven playful treehouse Canopy Suites – that offer unrivalled waterfall, river, jungle or rice paddy views. Each has been constructed to make as little impact on the environment as possible, with exteriors using reclaimed hevea wood, natural stone and traditional sirap roofing. Interiors feature an earthy colour palette and celebrate Indonesian design, from traditional woven furniture handcrafted by local artisans, coconut panelling and wood carving, to contemporary art from up-and-coming local artists. The Residence, a two-storey, two-bedroom villa with floor-to-ceiling windows offers guests the ultimate private haven amidst lush jungle.

The Tran Tien family's dedication to sustainability is evident in all areas of the resort, from the upcycled materials used in construction to the on-site water purification facility, providing guests with drinking water in recycled glass bottles. Extensive research was undertaken to make energy use at Nirjara as efficient as possible; expert insulation in each suite minimizes the use of air conditioning, whilst hot water is heated by solar panels and heat pumps.

Nirjara offers an array of bespoke experiences for guests to immerse themselves in the local culture and natural surroundings, from cycles through the rice fields to traditional cleansing rituals at a secluded holy spring. Guests can head to the nearby beach for early morning surf lessons or saddle up for sunset horse rides, peacefully exploring the picturesque paddies and black-sand beaches. Expert local guides will take guests on off-the-beaten-track explorations through the hills of Tabanan and Badung, starting at the sacred Sangeh Monkey Forest and ending at the majestic Nungnung Waterfall. The more artistically inclined can get involved in the spiritual practice of creating your own 'canang sari', collecting fresh flowers at local markets before returning to the hotel to create the colourful floral offering native to Bali and place it in Nirjara's temple.

This agreement is made on the date and year appearing above the signatures, and is between PT DCP Asia on behalf of "Nirjara" (the "Resort") and the "Partner/Agent" identified in the signature block. Upon signature by both parties, this contract supersedes all previous agreements.
