Jean-Michel Cousteau's Ambassadors of the Environment

An aerial photograph showing a black quadcopter drone flying over a sandy beach and turquoise ocean water. The drone is positioned in the upper right quadrant of the frame. In the lower left quadrant, a group of four people is sitting on the sand. The background is a vast expanse of clear, shallow water transitioning from light green to deep blue. A dark grey semi-transparent banner is overlaid at the top of the image, containing white text.

Aerial Drone X University Loughborough Partnership

As the first resort in the Maldives to pioneer conservation technology in collaboration with the Jean-Michel Cousteau Ambassadors of the Environment program, we are leading the use of drone (UAV) technology for plastics detection, ghost net recovery, and wildlife monitoring. Developed in partnership with Dr. Melissa Duncan-Schiele, Loughborough University (UK), and the Marine Research and Higher Education Centre (MarHE) in the Maldives, this program is trialing standardized methods to map and analyze ocean plastics.
